By WILLIAM H. LANDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27.—One of the greatest industrial struggles in the United States was forecast by observers as prices of bituminous coal soared to new high prices.

Important retail concerns raised their prices of coal delivered in front of the consumer's home to $9 a ton.

Simultaneously with this development the Pittsburgh Coal Company, largest bituminous operators in the world, announced a new wage scale which runs higher than the union rate. This company staged a lone fight with the union forces here a year ago and is now employing 3,300 on the open shop plan. It has employed as high as 14,000 men.

The Lincoln Hill Gas-Coal Company of Washington, Pa., also announced a higher wage scale, affecting about 500 men.

The Jacksonville wage agreement regulating union pay in the bituminous fields expires on March 31, 1927, and events now taking place are said to have a relation to that fact.

Resumption of operations of many mines in this district, hit by stagnation in the spring of 1925, was at first explained as an aftermath of the British coal strike, which caused increased demand for American soft coal.

The United Press learned, however, that the underlying cause of the demand for coal was huge orders by manufacturing concerns for the fuel.

It was pointed out that these manufacturers foresee a deadlock when negotiations between the union and operators is undertaken in an effort to establish a new agreement to replace the Jacksonville wage scale. Following the deadlock a long and bitter strike, involving all the union fields in the United States has been freely predicted. Therefore, the manufacturers are now laying up heavy stocks against that time, so that their operations will not be hampered by such a tie-up.

The increase in price announced today, the fourth in two weeks, is said by observers to be a definite reflection of the potentialities of the situation.

WAS KILLED

Toledo, O., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Toledo citizens were arming themselves today to aid in the search for a maniac "slugger" following the second slaying of a woman within 24 hours. A "slugger" is believed responsible for the deaths of four women and the beating of seven others within a year.

Mrs. Mary Aldep, 47, was found shot and beaten to death in her home last night. The scene of the latest crime was near where the body of Miss Lily Croy, 26 years old, a school teacher, was found early yesterday. The slayings bear so close a similarity to the killing of two women and attacks on several others a year ago that police believe they are all the work of the same person. Women of the city have been warned to remain within doors at night unless accompanied by escorts.

New York, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Pennsylvania railroad directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 percent on the $50 par stock, placing it on a $7 annual basis. The previous rate was $6 annually. The dividend is payable November 30, to stock of record November 1.

MAKES APPEAL FOR A HEAVY
VOTE TUESDAY

FORMER GOVERNOR W. L. HARD-ING OF IOWA SPEAKS AT ST. PAUL

G. O. P. AND DEMOCRATS DIFFER
ON NATIONALISM, LABOR AND TARIFF

St. Paul, Oct. 27.—(UP)—An appeal for a heavy vote at the general election on Tuesday was made here today by former Governor W. L. Harding of Iowa.

Under the auspices of the Ramsey County Women's Republican club, Harding addressed a meeting at the Saint Paul Hotel. He spoke Tuesday night at Breckenridge, Minn., will speak again tonight in St. Paul and tomorrow in Minneapolis.

Harding drew attention to figures showing that 25 years ago 80 percent of the qualified voters went to the polls and in 1924 only about 50 percent.

"It is the duty of every citizen to exercise the elective franchise," Harding said.

"Government is no better than the rank and file of the citizens; neither is it any worse than the rank and file of the citizens. The first duty, therefore, of a citizen is to vote."

Nationally speaking, Harding said there are three outstanding issues on which the republican and democratic parties differ:

Nationalism.
Labor.
Tariff.

"The republican party," he said, "has always been national — never sectional and never international. The democratic party has always been either sectional or international. The democratic party has relied on the solid south for its strength and this has made it a sectional party. When it deals with international affairs it offends the League of Nations and asks the United States to become a part of a supergovernment."

Because of advocating free trade or a tariff for revenue only, which would reduce our standard of living to the old world standard, Harding said the democratic party has treated labor as inferior to other classes.

The republican party, he said, has treated labor as an equal in social and economic life and has provided a protective tariff and led in legislation to furnish a safe place for the laborer to work.

"The great economic question that is dividing the two parties in the campaign, is that of the tariff," he declared.

Comparing the tariff to a fence around a farm or a garden, Harding said the republicans have built the fence just as a farmer would build it—high enough to meet its purpose, "or, to use the language of the statesman, the fence is high enough to represent the difference between the cost of production at home and the cost of reproduction abroad."

"The purpose of this fence is to safeguard the American market, for the American farmer, the American laboring man and the American manufacturer."

"The fence maintains and improves our standard of living."

THIS WAY

New York, Oct. 27.—(UP)—The spectacular suicide of a mother and daughter, who leaped 11 stories from the Martha Washington hotel in the center of the city, remains unexplained today.

The women, Mrs. Bertha Washauer, 50, and her daughter, Dorothy, 32, carried with them to death the secret of why they chose to die and in such a manner.

The suicide occurred just before six o'clock last night. The women had engaged a room in the hotel half an hour before. The mother jumped out of the window and met instant death on an iron canopy over the street entrance of the hotel. The daughter, leaping behind her, was caught momentarily on an iron support projecting from the ninth story.

A battle to save her life ensued when Miss Margery LaPlante, a trained nurse from Toronto, heard the girl struggling outside her window on the ninth floor and looked out. She grabbed Miss Washauer and tried to drag her back.

The girl kicked and struggled. "Let me go to my mother or I'll drag you with me," she shouted. She finally loosened Miss LaPlante's hold and crashed down after her mother.

A note left in the room said: "Notify A. Heyderman; he knows about jewels and money."

Heyderman was found in Brooklyn. Mrs. Washauer was his sister, but he could throw no light on the tragedy.

Canton, O., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Patrick McDermott's inside story of the Don R. Mellett murder was still untold today.

In solitary confinement at the Canton workhouse, McDermott was understood to be withholding a complete statement to gain better terms for himself.

McDermott, long hunted as the "key man" in the murder mystery, was captured early this week. He is believed to know every detail of the plot to assassinate Mellett, editor of the Canton Daily News.

Another attempt was to be made today by Prosecutor C. B. McClintock and Detective Ora Slater to persuade their prisoner to talk.

Shanghai, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Foreign refugees from Nanchang report that enormous damage has been caused by gunfire and looting, as a result of the Chinese civil war and it will take five years before restoration of the devastated areas can be completed. MEDIATION OF
COAL STOPPAGE IS IMMINENT

London, Oct. 27.—(UP)—The Daily Chronicle said mediation of coal stoppage is imminent as a result of several hours conversation among representatives of the Trades Union congress at which it was again decided to meet Prime Minister Baldwin today.

It was reported that Lord Derby and Lord Londonderry would be present.

Lord Derby acted as mediator when Irish troubles threatened to disrupt the British Isles.

London, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Mediation and perhaps early settlement of the coal stoppage was imminent today, according to the Daily Chronicle's political correspondent, who said Premier Baldwin would meet again with the council of the Trades Union congress. The council last night conferred with Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill and with Colonel George Lane Fox, secretary for mines, at No. 10 Downing street.

Several hours later the house of commons passed a resolution prolonging for another month the emergency regulations which were instituted in Great Britain when the industrial trouble became acute almost seven months ago.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' federation, in a speech offered to recommend that the men return to work on a minimum basis of $2.50 a day with each district working out its own rate of pay in accordance with local conditions.

Winona, Minn., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Albin Prybylek, a slight Polish boy, was to start an endurance test here in an effort to exceed his record of 100 hours of continuous driving of an automobile.

Chief of Police H. C. Riebau at 12:30 P. M. yesterday handcuffed Prybylek to the steering wheel of an automobile. Riebau will take possession of the handcuff key and will keep it until 5:30 P. M. Saturday unless the driver collapses in the meantime.

If Prybylek, who formerly was a professional jockey on the Tia Juana, Mexico, race track, drives for the full time, he will have set a mark of 101 hours.

EQUALITY, ILL.

Harrisburg, Ill., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Gangland of southern Illinois was restless today over printed threats that reprisal "war to the death" was to be started within 24 hours between the Shelton and Birger gangs. The gang war was forecast following slaying of two members of the Birger faction yesterday. William McQuay was found dead, huddled in his motor car, near Herrin. He had been shot 26 times and there were indications a machine gun had been used.

Later the body of Ward Jones was found lying in a river near Equality, Ill., a small mining town. There were indications he had been murdered and brought by motor car to the lonely scene where his body was found.

Immediately there came talk of reprisal and printed reports have been circulated as coming from Charles Birger, roadhouse proprietor, who heads the faction of his name, that it was "war to the death."

"We are going to get even and we are going to work fast," Birger is quoted as saying.

The Shelton brothers, Earl and Carl, are from Williamson county, and maintain a roadhouse near Herrin. They seldom discuss their acts, but have often been linked with difficulties that have cropped out in Williamson county affairs.

The rift between the Shelton and Birger factions started several months ago and several members of the gangs have been killed since that time.

TOLL OF GRUDGE WHICH ALBERT
SCHMIDT BORE AGAINST
SAM WERTHEIMER

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Two men were dead, one wounded, and seven other persons injured today as the toll of a grudge which Albert Schmidt, owner of a local theatre, bore against Samuel Wertheimer, former proprietor of the playhouse. Last night Schmidt invited Wertheimer into the basement of his theatre to show him how a ventilating system operated. In the basement Schmidt pulled a revolver, shot twice at Wertheimer and then killed himself.

A few minutes later an automobile containing one of seven squads of police, which were answering a riot call to the showhouse, was wrecked in a collision. Policeman Walter Reilly was killed in the wreck and his companions, Officers Thomas Aleock and George Hennessey, were seriously injured. The driver of the other car, Cecil Chapen, his wife and two children also were injured.

The quarrel between Wertheimer and Schmidt was the result of the sale of the show, Wertheimer told police. He said that after buying the show from him, Schmidt expressed dissatisfaction because the business was not paying as much as he thought it would. Then, Wertheimer said, Schmidt tried to get him to call the deal off.

Wertheimer said he went to the

DEMOCRATS
OF CONGRESS

FIND LITTLE TO BE ELATED
OVER IN MIDWESTERN REGION

EXCEPT IN STATES OF MISSOURI
AND OKLA-HOMA

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Democrats seeking control of the next congress, find little to be elated over in the mid-western region from the Canadian border to the Gulf, except in Missouri and Oklahoma.

In these two states impartial observers give democrats an even chance to gain two republican senate seats and perhaps two seats in the house.

In other parts of this farm region, scene of the reported agricultural revolt during the last few years, there seems little likelihood of change.

Of course republicans of the tendencies of Blaine in Wisconsin, Nye in North Dakota and Brookhart in Iowa, will not be welcomed as friends by the eastern republican group. But they are to be elected as republicans and will be welcomed into the party fold in these times when any republican legislative vote is not to be thrown away.

Republican senators are expected to be elected in Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin, with almost the same case as democratic senators in Alabama, Florida, Arkansas, Louisiana and North and South Carolina.

In all this region of the midwest and solid south there are at stake seven republican and six democratic seats with 60 republican and 80 democratic house seats.

If democrats should gain more than two senate and three or four house seats, it would be regarded as a political upheaval.

The fight is regarded as bitter only in Missouri and Oklahoma, but it is very bitter there. Here is how the situation has been outlined to political officials here:

Missouri — Representative Harry Hawes with the backing of the now popular Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, is fighting for the senate seat to which George H. Williams of St. Louis was appointed last year. Both are wets and both have about the same sentiments upon the League of Nations and the world court. The campaign has been largely a battle of personalities and interparty issues. Reed's popularity has become so widespread throughout the state that his home folks now are booming him for the presidential nomination and his support of Hawes has given the democrats a real chance to win. Fundamentally the state is regarded as doubtful for either party having favored democrats some times and republicans at others.

Little change is expected in the congressional delegation of nine democrats and six republicans.

Oklahoma—This state was formerly regarded as a member of the solid south but now has two republican senators, although the house delegation is democratic six to two. Senator Harrel, running for reelection, came in on the republican landslide for President Harding some six years ago and is having the fight of his life against Elmer Thomas, democratic representative. Republicans here are none too enthusiastic over the possibilities.

Little change is expected in the house delegation.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—The seismograph at Toledo University registered an earthquake today. It was estimated the tremors were 1,875 miles distant.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Oct. 27.—Earth shocks of slight intensity shook Poplar Bluff and the outlying region today, shattering windows in several down town buildings.

The shocks were of short duration and no heavy damage was reported.

The shocks caused no undue alarm here as this district on the edge of the Ozark hills and at the delta of two rivers, has been subject to earth tremors for many years.

Residents in the outlying parts of the city reported shocks jarred the dishes from the shelves but caused little or no other damage.

Reports from other cities near here say the shocks were only felt slightly and that no damage was caused.

MARS MAY

HUMAN EYES PEERING THROUGH POWERFUL TELESCOPES
AT PLANET

SEEK TO SPY OUT TRUTH ABOUT THE STRANGE RED
PLANET

New York, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Mars, the mystery planet, may be on the verge of giving up its secrets.

Human eyes, peering through powerful telescopes, are penetrating the cold space between the earth and Mars to spy out the truth about that strange planet.

The next few years may bring data that will go far towards determining whether life exists on Mars, as claimed by some scientists and hotly disputed by others.

The red planet, which has always, among men, symbolized war and terror, is now closer to the earth than it will be for the next 13 years. Scientists all over the world have their telescopes and cameras trained on it.

The planet has swung in elliptical orbit to a point where it is 42,000,000 miles from the earth. At its greatest distance—in astronomical terms, at its opposition near Aphelion—the distance is about 63,000,000 miles. Mars was somewhat closer to the earth in 1924 than at present, but the best observation point at that time was from the southern hemisphere where good telescopes are few. Its nearness to the haze of the horizon in the northern countries prevented good observation and results were disappointing.

Now, however, it is in a good position. At the naval observatory in Washington, the Yerkes observatory at Wisconsin, the Lowell observatory in Arizona and others, men of science are watching, taking measurements and figuring. Their eyes are trained on the southern part of Mars, which is towards the earth and enjoying its long Martian summer, during which the white patch around the south pole towards the earth disappears. Its disappearance is presumed to be due to the melting of the ice cap which accumulates during the eight month Martian winter. That fact, if determined beyond a doubt, will prove that Mars has water and therefore atmosphere, without which life, as known on earth, would be impossible.

The gang war was forecast following slaying of two members of the Birger faction yesterday. William McQuay was found dead, huddled in his motor car, near Herrin. He had been shot 26 times and there were indications a machine gun had been used.

Later the body of Ward Jones was found lying in a river near Equality, Ill., a small mining town. There were indications he had been murdered and brought by motor car to the lonely scene where his body was found.

Immediately there came talk of reprisal and printed reports have been circulated as coming from Charles Birger, roadhouse proprietor, who heads the faction of his name, that it was "war to the death."

"We are going to get even and we are going to work fast," Birger is quoted as saying.

The Shelton brothers, Earl and Carl, are from Williamson county, and maintain a roadhouse near Herrin. They seldom discuss their acts, but have often been linked with difficulties that have cropped out in Williamson county affairs.

The rift between the Shelton and Birger factions started several months ago and several members of the gangs have been killed since that time.

ARGUMENTS START STRING OF CASUALTIES

2 MEN DEAD, 1 WOUNDED, 7 OTHERS INJURED IN CHICAGO

TOLL OF GRUDGE WHICH ALBERT SCHMIDT BORE AGAINST SAM WERTHEIMER

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Two men were dead, one wounded, and seven other persons injured today as the toll of a grudge which Albert Schmidt, owner of a local theatre, bore against Samuel Wertheimer, former proprietor of the playhouse.

Last night Schmidt invited Wertheimer into the basement of his theatre to show him how a ventilating system operated. In the basement Schmidt pulled a revolver, shot twice at Wertheimer and then killed himself.

A few minutes later an automobile containing one of seven squads of police, which were answering a riot call to the showhouse, was wrecked in a collision. Policeman Walter Reilly was killed in the wreck and his companions, Officers Thomas Alcock and George Hennessey, were seriously injured. The driver of the other car, Cecil Chapen, his wife and two children also were injured.

The quarrel between Wertheimer and Schmidt was the result of the sale of the show, Wertheimer told police. He said that after buying the show from him, Schmidt expressed dissatisfaction because the business was not paying as much as he thought it would. Then, Wertheimer said, Schmidt tried to get him to call the deal off.

Wertheimer said he went to the theatre last night when Schmidt called and told him he would like for him to show him the workings of the ventilating system.

DEMOCRATS SEEK CONTROL OF CONGRESS

FIND LITTLE TO BE ELATED OVER IN MIDWESTERN REGION

EXCEPT IN STATES OF MISSOURI AND OKLAHOMA

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Democrats seeking control of the next congress, find little to be elated over in the mid-western region from the Canadian border to the Gulf, except in Missouri and Oklahoma.

In these two states impartial observers give democrats an even chance to gain two republican senate seats and perhaps two seats in the house.

In other parts of this farm region, scene of the reported agricultural revolt during the last few years, there seems little likelihood of change.

Of course republicans of the tendencies of Blaine in Wisconsin, Nye in North Dakota and Brookhart in Iowa, will not be welcomed as friends by the eastern republican group. But they are to be elected as republicans and will be welcomed into the party fold in these times when any republican legislative vote is not to be thrown away.

Republican senators are expected to be elected in Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin, with almost the same ease as democratic senators in Alabama, Florida, Arkansas, Louisiana and North and South Carolina.

In all this region of the midwest and solid south there are at stake seven republican and six democratic seats with 60 republican and 80 democratic house seats.

If democrats should gain more than two senate and three or four house seats, it would be regarded as a political upheaval.

The fight is regarded as bitter only in Missouri and Oklahoma, but it is very bitter there. Here is how the situation has been outlined to political officials here:

Missouri — Representative Harry Hawes with the backing of the now popular Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, is fighting for the senate seat to which George H. Williams of St. Louis was appointed last year. Both are wets and both have about the same sentiments upon the League of Nations and the world court.

The campaign has been largely a battle of personalities and interparty issues. Reed's popularity has become so widespread throughout the state that his home folks now are booming him for the presidential nomination and his support of Hawes has given the democrats a real chance to win. Fundamentally the state is regarded as doubtful for either party having favored democrats some times and republicans at others.

Little change is expected in the congressional delegation of nine democrats and six republicans.

Oklahoma—This state was formerly regarded as a member of the solid south but now has two republican senators, although the house delegation is democratic six to two. Senator Harreld, running for reelection, came in on the republican landslide for President Harding some six years ago and is having the fight of his life against Elmer Thomas, democratic representative. Republicans here are none too enthusiastic over the possibilities.

Little change is expected in the house delegation.

theatre last night when Schmidt called and told him he would like for him to show him the workings of the ventilating system.

NEW GLOW IS SIGHTED OVER MAUNA LOA

BELIEVED ANOTHER LAVA FLOW IN PROGRESS FROM THE HAWAIIAN VOLCANO

EARTHQUAKES INDICATED AT WIDELY DISTANT POINTS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA

Honolulu, Oct. 27.—(UP)—A new glow has been sighted over Mauna Loa and it was believed another lava flow from that historic volcano may be in progress.

Madrid, Oct. 27.—The seismograph at Toledo University registered an earthquake today. It was estimated the tremors were 1,875 miles distant.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Oct. 27.—Earth shocks of slight intensity shook Poplar Bluff and the outlying region today, shattering windows in several down town buildings.

The shocks were of short duration and no heavy damage was reported.

The shocks caused no undue alarm here as this district on the edge of the Ozark hills and at the delta of two rivers, has been subject to earth tremors for many years.

Residents in the outlying parts of the city reported shocks jarred the dishes from the shelves but caused little or no other damage.

Reports from other cities near here say the shocks were only felt slightly and that no damage was caused.

MARS MAY GIVE UP ITS DEEPEST SECRETS

HUMAN EYES PEERING THROUGH POWERFUL TELESCOPES AT PLANET

SEEK TO SPY OUT TRUTH ABOUT THE STRANGE RED PLANET

New York, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Mars, the mystery planet, may be on the verge of giving up its secrets.

Human eyes, peering through powerful telescopes, are penetrating the cold space between the earth and Mars to spy out the truth about that strange planet.

The next few years may bring data that will go far towards determining whether life exists on Mars, as claimed by some scientists and hotly disputed by others.

The red planet, which has always, among men, symbolized war and terror, is now closer to the earth than it will be for the next 13 years. Scientists all over the world have their telescopes and cameras trained on it.

The planet has swung in elliptical orbit to a point where it is 42,000,000 miles from the earth. At its greatest distance—in astronomical terms, at its opposition near Aphelion—the distance is about 63,000,000 miles. Mars was somewhat closer to the earth in 1924 than at present, but the best observation point at that time was from the southern hemisphere where good telescopes are few. Its nearness to the haze of the horizon in the northern countries prevented good observation and results were disappointing.

Now, however, it is in a good position. At the naval observatory in Washington, the Yerkes observatory at Wisconsin, the Lowell observatory in Arizona and others, men of science are watching, taking measurements and figuring. Their eyes are trained on the southern part of Mars, which is towards the earth and enjoying its long Martian summer, during which the white patch around the south pole towards the earth disappears. Its disappearance is presumed to be due to the melting of the ice cap which accumulates during the eight month Martian winter. That fact, if determined beyond a doubt, will prove that Mars has water and therefore atmosphere, without which life, as known on earth, would be impossible.

SWEDISH AMERICAN RALLY TOMORROW

Will be Held at the Clara Lutheran Church at 8 O'clock

SPECIAL PROGRAM

Dr. Amandus Johnson, of Philadelphia Will Deliver Principal Speech

Commemorating the landing of the Swedish people at Delaware in 1638 as well as the work done by the descendants of the early Swedish settlers in whose honor the John Morton Memorial is being erected in Philadelphia Swedish-American people of the community will gather at a Swedish-American Rally to be held at the Clara Lutheran church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Amandus Johnson, of Philadelphia president of the Sons and Daughters of Sweden in America will be in attendance at the rally and deliver the main address of the evening.

Dr. Johnson is known nationally as one of the most important figures in the advancement of Swedish people in America. His talk tomorrow evening is expected to be of unusual interest, and will center about the erection of the John Morton memorial and other undertakings that are in preparation for the perpetuation of the memory of the landing of the Swedish people at Delaware in 1638 as well as the work done by the descendants of the early Swedish settlers, and America's struggle for liberty.

The Sons and Daughters of Sweden in America are planning the purchase of the ground where the Swedish people landed and will turn it into a park. The corner stone of the John Morton memorial was laid by Gustaf Adolphus, Crown Prince of Sweden at Philadelphia.

"All Swedish-American people, irrespective of their church affiliations and all others are invited to attend" said Rev. August Samuelson.

The male chorus of the Clara Lutheran church will render selections.

OPPOSES BOND ISSUE

Mr. O'Brien's letter of Oct. 21st very clearly calls the attention of all citizens of Brainerd of voting age to the important duty of voting, on Nov. 2nd, on the school question mentioned, in order that the will of the majority may be ascertained, and I, for one, trust that every qualified voter will vote; but before doing so I urge that all inform themselves fully as to what is proposed to be done, so they will understand clearly just what they are voting for.

Under the resolution adopted by the Board of Education, a vote in favor of the Bond issue means that you are willing that the new school building shall be constructed on the land on which is located the present High School. This necessitates the tearing down of a large portion of the old building to make room for the new and that when the new building is completed, instead of having a new High School building, large enough to take care of the growing needs of the city, and at the same time retaining the old or present building for use as a grade school and Junior High School, you will be faced with the necessity of building a new grade school elsewhere in the city within a very few years, and that will involve another bond issue.

Regardless of where the new high school building should be located (there are, of course, conflicting opinions on that subject) is there any valid reason that can be advanced now or that will withstand the criticism of future generations, for tearing down any portion of the present building, which is perfectly capable of being used for school purposes for many years to come, in order to construct on that site a new building which when completed will provide little more pupil space than that which we have at the present time with the old facilities?

The proposed plan contemplates a high school and a grade school on the same location. Modern schoolmen in planning school lay-outs for growing communities are pronounced in their opinion that a high school and a grade school should never be in the same block, besides the proposed plan makes no provision for an athletic field for the new school, which, if carried out, will be a calamity. It is proposed to spend a large sum of money for a new building, which will be a high school and grade school combined, to be placed on approximately two and one-half acres of land. Besides, in arranging for their new high school, acquired 10 acres for the purpose. These two reasons alone are sufficient to condemn the project.

It seems to me that it will be a grave mistake to do what is proposed but that the new high school should be built on some site satisfactory to the majority of the citizens of Brainerd and not on the site of the present building, which should be retained and used for many years.

I hope that the voters, because of the long drawn out controversy over the site or dread of additional delay, will not be stampeded in voting for a bond issue which will mean, in my judgment, the spending of a large sum of money for inadequate facilities, and for something that will always be a source of regret in the future.

For my part, I shall vote against the present proposition, and if it is voted down, will expect the Board of Education to submit a new plan for the consideration of the voters.

Vote on Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, and thus discharge the duty you owe to yourself and the city generally on this important subject.

PUBLIC LIBRARY PLANS PROGRAM

Entertainment to be Given on Friday Evening, November 19, at High School

MEN TO SERVE LUNCH

Proceeds to be Used to Buy Books and Equipment for Children's Department

On Friday evening, November 19, the Brainerd Public Library will give an entertainment in the gymnasium of the high school. The program will consist of numbers from each school. The men of the Library board will have charge of the lunch to be served after the program and for which a small fee will be charged. The proceeds from the entertainment will be used to buy books and equipment for the children's department of the Library.

The board is exceptionally anxious to have a large crowd, because it is through the patronage of the public that all of the children who take books from the library will be benefited.

During children's book week, November 7 to 13, there will be a book display in the children's department. The library is open to the public and it is hoped that the public will come down and see the display and to look over the children's library.

New adult books that have been added to the Library include:

Norris—Hildegard.
Canfield—Her Son's Wife.
Lea—Dream-maker Man.
Robertson—Foreman of the Forty-Bar.

Whitaker—Three Bad Men.
Packard—Running Special.
Dickens—Oliver Twist.
Friend—Bullet Eater.

Fox—Little Bear's Laughing Time.
Baum—Lost Princess of Oz.

Baum—Rinkintink in Oz.
Baum—Kabumpo in Oz.

Jones—Hammon Twins.
Barbour—Last Play.

Buchanan—Sunny Crest Farmyard.
Thompson—Curious Cruise of Captain Santa.

King—Skeezix and Uncle Walt.
Van Horn—Sportcraft for all the Year.

These books will not be made ready for circulation until the expiration of Children's Book Week and may be obtainable by any one wishing to purchase them. There will also be lists of excellent books at hand, and the librarians will be glad to assist in selecting books and ordering any not on display. If you are planning on giving books for Christmas this will be a good opportunity to select them. More books have been ordered to be added to the above list.

NIGHT AT THE LAKE

Gently swaying in the breeze
The lily bends its tawny head,
While silent night comes creeping down,
And all the sky is tinted red.

Gently on its slender stalk
It bows so low with modest grace
And with an air of sweet repose
Turns to the dark'ning night its face.

On the meadow deep and green
The fireflies glow their tiny light;
Here and there and everywhere
They flash their signals on the night.

On the ground and in the air,
Among the lilies stately tall,
Over trees and under hill
They light their lamps as even falls.

In the cottage on the hill
The windows gleam with welcome light
The winding road amid the trees
Leads to the cheery threshold bright;

'Tis rest to them who love the pines
And are content to dwell apart,
Where stream and forest quiet meet—
In haven made by nature's art.

'Tis home to them who choose to stay
Where trees and forest's woody dell
With grass and ferns are deeply green
And fragrant with the forest smell.

Where moon's bright path upon the lake
Reflects the light of starry sky,
Enjoins the soul a prayer to make
As night winds sing their lullaby.

(Rev. Wm. J. Lowrie, Windom, Minn.)

"Why Women Love" Sea Thriller

The tang of the salt sea air, the silvery treacle of moonlight on the ocean, the lyric lilting of a craft on the bosom of watery wastes—such are the elemental charms that make a cinematic masterpiece of "Why Women Love," which is the current feature at the Lyceum theatre. It is one of the pictorially outstanding productions of the season, according to the critics of the country.

Gloria Swanson's "Fine Manners" Coming to Lyceum

Do "fine manners" make "fine ladies"?

That's the question asked in Gloria Swanson's latest film, "Fine Manners," which arrives at the Lyceum tomorrow. Gloria is seen as a dancer in a burlesque music hall. With a brother, who jealously tries to guard her from the world's tawdry influences, she lives in a tiny tenement apartment.

Then—Fate—or call it what you will, has her meet a young, socially bored, society scion. He immediately falls in love with this veritable child of nature. Thinking to improve, and make her well-nigh perfect, the youth tells his sweetheart that a course in "fine manners" will make her a "fine lady."

"The Big Parade" is New York Hit
"The Big Parade," which comes to the Park Theatre Sunday, matinee and night, October 31st, for its first and exclusive showing in Brainerd, direct from the Twin Cities, is unquestionably the greatest success New York has ever known in the realm of big pictures. The production is in its second year at the Astor Theatre, New York, and is now also on view in the principal capitals of the world. The presentation in this city will be an exact duplicate in picture and music of the one in New York, an orchestra of twenty pieces being carried on tour.

Captain Laurence Stallings, who wrote "The Big Parade," is playwright, novelist and writer on literary subjects, after a colorful youth in which he served gloriously in the A. E. F., and lost a leg for his country. Before the war, Stallings was a well known southern newspaper man. He wrote this picture of life in the great crisis overseas with the same intimate realism and unflinching humor that characterizes his novels and plays.

John Gilbert is starred and he is supported by Renee Adoree, Karl Dane, Tom O'Brien, Hobart Bosworth, Claire McDowell, Claire Adams and other popular screen players.

AT NEW LOWER PRICES, the Chrysler "60" is recognized as a value further removed than ever from any other light six in the industry.

NOTHING so surely emphasizes the unique value that Chrysler "60" offers as the attempt to compare Chrysler "60" performance with that of the ordinary type of six.

So clearly defined and obvious is the difference in Chrysler "60" riding qualities—in speed and smoothness of operation, in roadability and riding comfort, in pliability of power, in response to accelerator and steering wheel—the least experienced driver cannot fail to class the "60" as immeasurably ahead of all other cars anywhere near it in price.

The difference is in creative engineering—in fine-measurement-manufacturing—in short, in Chrysler Standardized Quality. Walter P. Chrysler and his engineers and manufacturers believe they have never produced a car more brilliant than the Chrysler "60".

At its old prices, the Chrysler "60" was recognized as far beyond comparison with the ordinary six. The new lower prices widen the gap—emphasize more clearly than ever its unapproachable leadership in the light six field.

Gently swaying in the breeze
The lily bends its tawny head,
While silent night comes creeping down,
And all the sky is tinted red.
Gently on its slender stalk
It bows so low with modest grace
And with an air of sweet repose
Turns to the darkening night its face.
On the meadow deep and green
The fireflies glow their tiny light;
Here and there and everywhere
They flash their signals on the night.
On the ground and in the air,
Among the lilies stately fall,
Over trees and under hill
They light their lamps as even falls.
In the cottage on the hill
The windows gleam with welcome light
The winding road amid the trees
Leads to the cheery threshold bright;
Tis rest to them who love the pines
And are content to dwell apart,
Where stream and forest quiet meet—
In haven made by nature's art.

'Tis home to them who choose to stay
Where trees and forest's woody dell
With grass and ferns are deeply green
And fragrant with the forest smell.
Where moon's bright path upon the lake
Reflects the light of starry sky,
Enjoins the soul a prayer to make
As night winds sing their lullaby.

"Why Women Love" Sea Thriller

The tang of the salt sea air, the silvery treacle of moonlight on the ocean, the lyric lulling of a craft on the bosom of watery wastes—such are the elemental charms that make a cinematic masterpiece of "Why Women Love," which is the current feature at the Lyceum theatre. It is one of the pictorially outstanding productions of the season, according to the critics of the country.

Gloria Swanson's "Fine Manners" Coming to Lyceum

Do "fine manners" make "fine ladies"?

That's the question asked in Gloria Swanson's latest film, "Fine Manners," which arrives at the Lyceum tomorrow. Gloria is seen as a dancer in a burlesque music hall. With a brother, who jealously tries to guard her from the world's tawdry influences, she lives in a tiny tenement apartment.

Then—Fate—or call it what you will, has her meet a young, socially bored, society scion. He immediately falls in love with this veritable child of nature. Thinking to improve, and make her well-nigh perfect, the youth tells his sweetheart that a course in "fine manners" will make her a "fine lady."

"The Big Parade" is New York Hit
"The Big Parade," which comes to the Park Theatre Sunday, matinee and night, October 31st, for its first and exclusive showing in Brainerd, direct from the Twin Cities, is unquestionably the greatest success New York has ever known in the realm of big pictures. The production is in its second year at the Astor Theatre, New York, and is now also on view in the principal capitals of the world. The presentation in this city will be an exact duplicate in picture and music of the one in New York, an orchestra of twenty pieces being carried on tour.

Captain Laurence Stallings, who wrote "The Big Parade," is playwright, novelist and writer on literary subjects, after a colorful youth in which he served gloriously in the A. E. F., and lost a leg for his country. Before the war, Stallings was a well known southern newspaper man. He wrote this picture of life in the great crisis overseas with the same intimate realism and unflinching humor that characterizes his novels and plays.

John Gilbert is starred and he is supported by Renee Adoree, Karl Dane, Tom O'Brien, Hobart Bosworth, Claire McDowell, Claire Adams and other popular screen players.

Faulty Elimination

Should Be Corrected—Good Elimination Is Essential to Good Health.

If you would be well, see to your elimination. Faulty kidney action permits toxic material to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. Then, one is apt to have a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, a toxic backache or headache, and often some irregularity of secretions, such as scanty or burning passages. More and more people are acclaiming the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. For more than forty years Doan's have been winning favor the country over. Ask your neighbor!

AT NEW LOWER PRICES, the Chrysler "60" is recognized as a value further removed than ever from any other light six in the industry.

NOTHING so surely emphasizes the unique value that Chrysler "60" offers as the attempt to compare Chrysler "60" performance with that of the ordinary type of six.

So clearly defined and obvious is the difference in Chrysler "60" riding qualities—in speed and smoothness of operation, in roadability and riding comfort, in pliability of power, in response to accelerator and steering wheel—the least experienced driver cannot fail to class the "60" as immeasurably ahead of all other cars anywhere near it in price.

The difference is in creative engineering—in fine-measurement-manufacturing—in short, in Chrysler Standardized Quality. Walter P. Chrysler and his engineers and manufacturers believe they have never produced a car more brilliant than the Chrysler "60".

At its old prices, the Chrysler "60" was recognized as far beyond comparison with the ordinary six. The new lower prices widen the gap—emphasize more clearly than ever its unapproachable leadership in the light six field.

A STANDARDIZED HOSPITAL

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH is proud to mention the fact that in St. Joseph's hospital we have a standardized hospital, fully complying with the requirements and strict standards of the American College of Surgeons.

St. Joseph's hospital has adopted the fundamental requirements for the right care of the patient and the broadest community service, as provided for in the minimum standard requirements laid down by the American College of Surgeons, an international organization charged with the responsibility of the great movement known as Hospital Standardization.

The right care of the patient comes first in every hospital. Years of investigation and study has proved to the American College of Surgeons that this can only be assured through the acceptance and carrying out of the principles as laid down in Hospital Standardization, embodied in which are the six great fundamental principles upon which rests responsibility to the patient—organization, coordination, cooperation, efficiency, economy and service.

It is true that the hospital has become a part of the social life of our people. It is becoming increasingly used from day to day. A hospital conforming to Standardization regulations fully recognizes its responsibility to the patient, the student nurse, the young doctor, and the community at large.

The annual survey made by the American College of Surgeons embraces active general and special hospitals of 35 beds and over in the United States, Canada and other countries, numbering this year 2,528. This group includes the federal hospitals of the United States Army, Navy, Public Health Service, Veterans Bureau, National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and a number of institutions in other countries.

MINNESOTA'S HOMECOMING

CLEARY C. J. FREDELL, chairman of publicity of Minnesota's Pioneer Homecoming 1926, writes the Brainerd Dispatch:

"We have just received a letter from Frank E. Little, mayor of Brainerd, endorsing our plan for the greatest homecoming in the history of the University of Minnesota. This is to be known as the Pioneer Homecoming, and will take place on November 29, the occasion being the football game between Michigan and Minnesota. Mr. Little wrote as follows:

"I wish to heartily endorse the purpose and methods used to make Homecoming in Minnesota on November 20th, the greatest Homecoming in the history of the state.

"An occasion of this kind is far reaching in its effects and here in Minnesota it is much needed to stimulate interest and patriotism for the State. I hope that the event will be everything you expect, and would be glad to cooperate in any way possible to make this the greatest Homecoming Minnesota has ever had."

THE INQUITOUS "ROORBACK"

NEXT Tuesday another Minnesota political campaign will pass into history.

The several weeks' skirmishes of wordy attack and counter attack will end in the inevitable all-fronts battle of ballots, in which the humble pencil comes into its own as the arbiter of fate and the voters' most powerful weapon.

In these days old-timers will be on the lookout for the almost inevitable, iniquitous "roorback," that eleventh hour weapon of the unprincipled politician and his henchmen. Fortunately, however, the roorback is often sprung in time to be spiked—when its recoil brings results directly opposed to the hope and intention of the guilty offender.

Let all voters therefore be forewarned and turn a deaf ear to the whispered or circularized attacks on candidates, state, congressional or local, that may be launched this last week before election.

BANK GUARANTY LAW

HERE in the brief is the result of guaranty of bank deposit laws in the states that have tried it: Oklahoma—70 bank failures from 1920 to 1923; over $10,000,000 in pending claims; legislature repealed the law, leaving the claims unpaid. South Dakota—Many bank failures, unmet losses of $15,000,000; law repealed. North Dakota—$4,000,000 in claims to be adjusted, and if the law is not repealed it is estimated that it will take fifty years to make good the present claims; one body of the legislature passed a repeal act, and the coming legislature may succeed in repealing it. Kansas—strongest banks withdrew from the guaranty list; unpaid claims amounting to $6,750,000, drawing 6 per cent interest with only $987,000 in bonds to meet payment; guaranty system is in effect defunct. Nebraska—the only state claiming its law a success, with practically unlimited assessment of the sound banks, promises to pay the pending $20,000,000 claims in two years.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

ELLSWORTH AND HIS FLOP

FRANKLIN L. ELLSWORTH, former second district congressman, of Mankato, and now a resident of Minneapolis, in his latest flop has landed in the Democratic party. He "confessed" in his Brainerd address to having held office some way or another under Republican party rule for 20 years.

Various speakers have said America thrived best with a two party system, two major parties, Republican and Democratic, the one in power to be constantly checked up by the party on the outside.

In his letter to Chairman C. A. Quist, of the Democratic state committee Mr. Ellsworth is reported as saying that the La Follette campaign proved that the "Republican party is unable of reforming from within," and that he believes in a two-party system of government. Therefore he will support the Democratic party.

SOME of the Governor Christianson enthusiasts are making predictions that on the basis of a total vote next Tuesday of 700,000 (about 120,000 votes more than at the primaries), Governor Christianson will beat Magnus Johnson by between 175,000 and 200,000 votes. It is believed by many that Governor Christianson will be re-elected by the largest plurality ever given a governor in the state's history.

"A MAN IS KNOWN BY THE COMPANY HE KEEPS"

We cannot always choose our company. We must be judged by the things we choose, not by the things that are forced upon us.

No man chooses his features, but he does choose his expression and the expression on his face is a fairer index of his character than his features.

A man must be judged by many other things than the company he keeps. A man is known by the way he conducts himself when he is away from his home town, or off on a vacation. We are what we are when we do as we please.

A man is judged, not by the clothes he wears but by the way he wears them. Cheap clothing well brushed and carefully pressed, makes a better impression than expensive clothing carelessly worn. Carefulness is inexpensive, too.

A man is known by the things he laughs at. If the fool, the lewd, the vulgar and the indecent excite him to mirth it is because he exults in filth. We laugh at the things we think are funny. No clean-minded man ever sees anything funny in nastiness.

One may be judged by the phonograph records in the collection at home. The wax of the record is helpless. It must reproduce whatever is impressed upon it. But we do not have to buy the thing we do not approve of.

A man is judged by the respect that he shows to inferiors, dependents, the poor and the powerless. The gentleman sees something sacred in every human soul. No accident of class or caste ever blinds him to the dignity of humanity. Only the fool enjoys the despicable art of condescending.

A. at Brainerd for a number of years and is known by all as a reliable young man. This firm has some choice lands to offer, both wild and improved.—Pine Tree Blaze.

Yesterday afternoon Con O'Brien sold to George Williamson his 200 acre farm in Maple Grove township, the consideration being $2,200 cash. This land is among the best in Crow Wing county and while it is not improved Mr. Williamson expects to make many improvements the coming year. Mr. O'Brien has purchased a lot near the mill track on Laurel street near his store and he is going to erect a large warehouse in connection with his other business.

One of the worst fires for years occurred in this county yesterday and as a result many farmers are left without grain or hay for their stock the coming winter. No lives are known to have been lost although there were many narrow escapes.

The fire came into the county from Morrison where it has been raging for days and it is thought to have struck the county line yesterday morning at an early hour. * * * Commencing at section 25, town 43, range 30, following up Daggett Brook to section 10, town 43, range 29. As many as 15 farmers were heavy losers. The farmers known

DONNIE BUSH IS A TWO-FISTED MANAGER

DIRECTS COMING DESTINIES OF THE PITTSBURGH PIRATES

BARNEY DREYFUSS, OWNER OF PIRATES, KIDDED AS A "NICKLE NURSER"

TEAM NEEDS A SIMON LEGREE TO HANDLE TEMPERAMENTAL PLAYERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 27.—Appointment of Donnie Bush as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates next season leaves only the St. Louis Browns and the Boston Red Sox without leaders.

Unless some of the many former managers and prospective managers now out of jobs are in actual want there may be no rush for either job. On the other hand, when a veteran of the type and character of Stuffy McInnis can be trapped into a job of managing the Phillies, the Browns and the Red Sox may not have to draft a successor to George Sisler and Lee Fohl.

Besides Sisler and Fohl, Arthur Fletcher and Bill McKechnie are out of work and there are some prospects in the minor leagues worth attention.

With the exception of some of the richer clubs, economy is first in the mind of the major league club owners. After Bill Baker had given Fletcher the gate in Philadelphia, he needed a manager and also a first baseman. So he tossed McInnis into a trance, signed him to a contract and got both for one salary.

It was not for the purpose of saving some of the chewing gum millions that prompted William Wrigley to snatch McCarthy out of the minors and put him in charge of the Cubs. McCarthy had quite a reputation as a manager in the American Association.

Bush cannot be rated as a bushier. The former Detroit shortstop had extensive experience in the big time as a player and a brief career as a manager with the Washington Senators.

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pirates, has always been kidded as a nickel nurser and some will say that he appointed Bush because he could get him cheap.

What the Pirates need most, however, Bush is said to have. There may have been smarter baseball men available for the job, but the Pirates did not need a master mind. They need a Legree to handle the players and Bush has the reputation of being a two-fisted boss.

Until a manager is announced for the Browns and the Red Sox, every candidate out of a job will be mentioned as a sure thing.

It was first reported that Bill Killefer, who acted as Rogers Hornsby's first lieutenant with the Cardinals last year, would switch over to the Browns but this was denied and it was intimated that Bill's brother, Wade, from the Pacific Coast league was being considered.

The situation in Boston has been spared from a lot of rumors. Possibly because no one cares to speculate about misfortunes that might befall any poor fellow out of work.

It has been reported, however, that Lefty Leifield, who has been helping Lee Fohl, will get his former boss' job.

STEALING "KEY TO ST. PAUL"

SEEMED SERIOUS MATTER FOR 3 UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA STUDENTS

St. Paul, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Three University of Minnesota students gaped yesterday when Municipal Judge John W. Finchout fined them $25 each for attempting to steal the "Key to St. Paul," which hangs from the city limits sign between St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Then, after the shock had had its full effect, Judge Finchout laughed and suspended the fine, explaining that he did it because they were "just boys" and had been assigned to the prank as a part of the ritual of their initiation into a campus society.

The students were Theodore Casey, of Jordan, Minn.; Murray Fowler, 21, of Duluth, and Roy Lucas, 20, of Menominee, Wis.

RICE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS UNDER FIRE

Faribault, Min., Oct. 27.—(UP)—A hearing will be held here on Thursday, November 4, on the petition of the Rice County Taxpayers' league for the removal of all five members of the Rice county board of commissioners, it was announced today.

Julius Collier, who was appointed by Governor Theodore Christianson as a special commissioner to take testimony in the ouster proceedings, will conduct the hearing.

The taxpayers' league charges the board of commissioners with unlawful acts.

FORESTRY MADE AS PROFITABLE AS FARMING

St. Paul, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Passage of state constitutional amendment, No. 2, regarding forestry, was urged before a luncheon club here today by Professor J. F. Wentling of University Farm. He said that forestry can be made as profitable as farming and passage of the amendment would lift the tax burden on cut over lands and permit reforestation.

PANDOLFO NOW BACK WITH ST. CLOUD FOLKS

LATTER NEVER WAVED IN THEIR SUPPORT OF THE PROMOTER

CITY OFFICIALS AND BUSINESS MEN GREET FORMER HEAD OF COMPANY

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Samuel C. Pandolfo was back today among those who never wavered in their support of him even after he started serving a 10-year prison sentence.

City officials and business men were among the 600 persons who greeted the former head of the Pandolfo Manufacturing Company late Tuesday when he arrived from Minneapolis whence he had gone after being released from the Leavenworth federal penitentiary on parole.

Pandolfo had served three years of a 10-year term imposed on him by Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, for flamboyant claims made in the advertising of his company.

Acting Mayor Julius Adams, commissioner of finance and other members of the city commission were among those at the station to greet him.

Forty-six firms and individuals signed a full page advertisement in a St. Cloud newspaper as a testimonial of their faith in the promoter. Below a large photograph of Pandolfo was this tribute:

"In recognition of the prominent part you have played in the growth and development of St. Cloud and your undying faith in its future, the people of St. Cloud, fully appreciating what you have accomplished for this city, extend you the glad hand of welcome."

Pandolfo was escorted to the home of a friend whose guest he will be while in the city.

Tonight at a public meeting in the Miner Theatre, he will be welcomed back to St. Cloud. Moving pictures showing the Pandolfo Manufacturing Company in operation, will be flashed on the screen.

Pandolfo has announced he would reveal his plans for the future at the meeting.

INVESTIGATE CAR AND TRUCK SMASH

Waukesha, Wis., Oct. 27.—(UP)—Waukesha county authorities have started an investigation into the death of Charles Hoffmeister, 41, who was killed in an automobile accident near here yesterday.

The car in which Hoffmeister and two others were riding crashed into a truck belonging to the Capital Cartage company of Madison. James Higgins, 31, companion of Hoffmeister, was seriously injured while Harry Phillips, driver, was slightly hurt.

SESQUI FAIR TO BE CLOSED SUNDAYS

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 27.—(UP)—A permanent injunction closing the Sesquiennial International exposition in Philadelphia on Sundays was issued in Dauphin county court today.

The injunction was granted on the application of John Robert Jones, counsel for a number of Philadelphia associations interested in the closing of the exposition on Sundays.

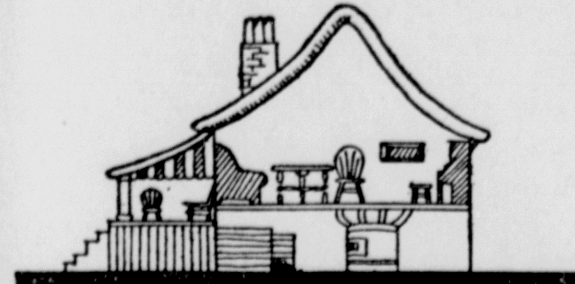

CONDITION OF HOUDINI UNCHANGED

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 27.—(UP)—The condition of Harry Houdini, magician, who is in a serious condition here following an operation for appendicitis was "unchanged" during the night, Dr. Daniel Cohn, one of his physicians, informed the United Press shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

Houdini is suffering from peritonitis, which developed from a broken appendix. The actor insisted upon completing a Sunday appearance at local theater after which he collapsed.

THE rugged endurance that singles out the Hupmobile Six can be quickly traced to its source in Hupmobile's adherence to the finer manufacturing and engineering practices.

Hupmobile Six, for example, has a heavy, rigid crankshaft—a kind too costly for common use. Combined with an efficient vibration damper, that weight and stiffness reduce vibration to the minimum.

Hupmobile imports expensive Cuban iron for its cylinder blocks—unmatched for resistance to wear. It machines the combustion chambers of all cylinders to precise size, thus giving you smoother operation and greater power.

The reinforced chassis frame is built especially strong to resist the strains which every chassis must meet.

And Hupmobile surrounds a myriad of these basic superiorities with every feature that promotes performance, safety and economy, such as thermostatic control of cooling, four-wheel brakes, clear-vision bodies, oil filter, gas filter, etc.

You can rely on your first favorable impressions of Hupmobile Six beauty and value, knowing that the deeper qualities which result in lasting satisfaction are built into every fiber of the car.

What Will He Have For Dessert Tonight?

My Husband's Favorite Dessert—Apple Betty

1 quart crumbled stale bread (not dry) 1 1/2 cups Great Western Sugar 1/2 teaspoonful ground cinnamon 1 quart chopped tart apples 1/4 cup melted butter 1/4 teaspoonful ground cloves 1/4 teaspoonful nutmeg

Butter a baking dish. Mix the sugar and spices with the apples, the melted butter with the bread crumbs. Put a layer of apples in the dish, then one of crumbs, continuing in this way until used, making the last layer crumbs. Cover and bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven—350 degrees F. Remove the lid, bake fifteen minutes longer. Serve with any fruit sauce or whipped or plain cream.

EXERCISE... stimulating and exhilarating, but also fatiguing.

Sugar, an energizing food, is a substantial part of most desserts that men crave. And it serves to build up the energy which is expended during the day.

Uniformly good results in desserts may be obtained with Great Western Sugar... sparkling white... pure... nourishing.

Ask for Great Western Sugar by name. If you are not entirely convinced of its high quality, take it back to your grocer. It will cost you nothing.

Tracked by the Police

Copyright, 1926, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"TRACKED BY THE POLICE," starring Rin-Tin-Tin, is a Warner Bros. production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Jimmy Ford smuggles a police puppy home after the war. Murtagh, a crooked politician who secretly leads a vicious gang, covets Jimmy's sweetheart, Ruth Allen. Jimmy's father, a New York police lieutenant, is mysteriously murdered. Jimmy joins the force to avenge him. Jimmy has an ally in Rinty, now full-grown. Murtagh's underworld sweetheart, Nell, frames Jimmy, who is dishonorably discharged. Rinty detects the odor of an enemy he has been hunting since puppyhood, and follows him to the gang's hangout. Murtagh attacks Ruth; Jimmy and Rinty arrive and save her.

Choking Murtagh with one hand, shaking the other in his face, Jimmy said with deadly calm:
"Murtagh, there's a blood feud between you and me. It's been there ever since you killed my father, but it only came out in the open when you framed me and I called you in front of Captain O'Brien for the wine you are. But you're sly, Murtagh, like all sewer rats, and I can't prove my beliefs yet. The day is coming when I can. Meanwhile New York ain't big enough for the both of us, so you'd better keep out of my way from now on or I'll cheat the electric chair of your rotten carcass. If you ever show your face inside this house again Rinty will tear you to pieces. From tonight on—"

The kid thrust a pistol against Rinty's head.

Jimmy's calm was giving way now to a physical impulse to kick, beat, choke, kill. Afraid of losing control of himself, he wrestled Murtagh to the head of the stairs, and then, before Ruth and the straining Rinty, before the gaping crowd of neighbors, who had hitherto looked upon Murtagh as a sacred cow, as an untouchable local god, he kicked the battered ward down the stairs, thus completing his degradation. It was a scene that the gossiping neighbors would rehearse and repeat all over the ward ere another twenty-four hours had elapsed, to the eternal shame of Murtagh. Never again would he be the unrumpled cock of the walk in Chelsea. Though his influence might remain unimpaired, his tall feathers were clipped!

For a long, long time after Jimmy had closed the door on the neighbors and on the exit of Murtagh he sat in the little flat holding Ruth's sob-wrecked, fluttering, frightened body in his lap, close to his breast. And Rinty sat on guard at the door and looked reproachfully at the master who had cheated him of the satisfaction of chewing Murtagh.

"You need have no fear from now on, dear," he told Ruth after she became quieter, "for tomorrow you'll move over to our house, and until then Rinty will stay here with you."

It was late when Jimmy left to go home. They had straightened the last signs of the struggle with Murtagh out of the kitchen; everything was as tidy as always for Ruth's last night in what had been her home for so many years.

Ordinarily Ruth would have tumbled right into bed and pulled the bedclothes over her head and gone to sleep in that faint security, but tonight, with Rinty on the job, things were different. She felt light-headed, free. She was glad that the open clash with Murtagh had come. It had been inevitable. Now that it was disposed of and Murtagh had been literally and figuratively thrown down, Ruth felt a clearing of the tension in her young life, as the country-side air is clear after a heavy thunderstorm. She hummed and jimped about her packing like a schoolgirl and chatted with Rinty.

He, his fellow, enjoyed it immensely, following Ruth from one chore to another, teasing her by pulling the hem of her dress, and acting, all in all, with a puppy-like lack of dignity for one who had been so lately an austere member of "the cops."

So say a time they had an hour passed untroubled. Once Rinty had finished his playing and with a low, warning grumble had bounded to the door, where he had stood with his head cocked on one side, listening intently. But after a few seconds he relaxed, just as if he had been mistaken or misled by a false alarm; therefore Ruth had not thought anything further of the matter and had not even opened the door to investigate.

She was on the point of giving over her packing for the night when she became suddenly aware of a sweetish heaviness in the air. It filled the room so instantaneously and so without warning that even keen nosed Rinty only noticed it simultaneously with Ruth.

But it was not a part of Ruth's present mood to feel any slight tinge of alarm. Not with Rinty present. "What a peculiar odor, Rinty?" she giggled. "Someone must be bringing us flowers!" Rinty wagged his tail, but the next instant he began to utter from side to side and to sink to his stomach. His sharper, more sensitive breathing system was quicker prey for such things. Now Ruth experienced a swift chill of fear. "Oh, Rinty, what's the matter?" Another instant and her head began to cloud. She saw one—two—three—a dozen Rintys, and then was sickeningly conscious of the floor racking up into her face—and then—

Olivia—for both girl and dog. There at the door together, with a deathly gleam in the guard, the guard. The swirling police in two seconds around the house like fog, smoke fog in a light club. Two men tiptoeing in through the door were curiously without outlines, like wraiths. Murtagh and Kid Twist. Wet handkerchiefs held tightly to their noses.

Rinty's body blocked Ruth from the door, so they brutally kicked him aside. With their feet hands they forced Ruth out into the hall. Two other men there, lifted her up, tore her down stairs. Kid Twist and Murtagh returned to settle Rinty.

The Kid thrust a pistol against Rinty's head, Murtagh knotted the pistol, dodged a violent negative. Pistol shot would make too much noise, arouse the neighbors. So the Kid picked up a chair, but in order to get the leverage and swing necessary to lift Rinty, he had to stand upright and use both hands, thus uncovering his nose. And the gas poison was too viciously swift to permit that. He dropped the chair, staggered and would have fallen had not Murtagh grabbed him and clapped the handkerchief back to his nose.

This racket of the falling chair made an immediate getaway imperative. Murtagh crawled out into the hall, half dragging Kid Twist with him. Rinty never stirred. Indeed, he seemed too far gone now to make necessary any further measures to ensure his death.

CHAPTER 15
New York Nell sat in the little old fashioned lunch room on Eighth avenue, just around the corner south of Twenty-third street, and dawdled over her breakfast with all the gloom and moroseness of a condemned prisoner awaiting an expected refusal of reprieve from a hard boiled governor. Indeed, Nell would have felt considerably lighter, both in heart and head, if she were in the position of one about to receive a painless death. For Nell was undergoing—had been enduring for weeks—that insidious soul death of a cast-off favorite, of a woman no longer desired, a death infinitely more agonizing than a mercifully quick physical killing. She had gone back to Dan Murtagh and had agreed to help him with his nefarious schemes only on his solemn promise that he would devote all his attentions solely to her, that he would quit chasing that Allen girl. But Dan had done quite the contrary. Once Nell's help to him was accomplished and Jimmy Ford had been framed and shunted to where he could no longer be an obstacle to Murtagh, Nell had been ruthlessly ignored again. Squeezed and thrown aside.

Nell had cornered him the afternoon before and had made him promise to meet her here this morning to come to an understanding. She was waiting for him now. He was late, a fact that did not help. She was waiting for him now. He was late, a fact that did not help. She was waiting for him now. He was late, a fact that did not help.

"Variety," Paramount's European sensation, which comes to the Park Friday for two days only, smashed all box office records when shown at the giant Ufa Palace in Berlin, Germany. Every seat in the big house was occupied throughout the picture's run, and a special police detail was on duty at all times.

On the opening night, if we are to believe our foreign brothers of the press, the audience went wild with enthusiasm.

AMERICAN NURSE IS HER ONLY DICTATOR

CAN TELL QUEEN MARIE OF RUMANIA JUST WHAT TO DO RESPONSIBLE FOR SAFEGUARDING HEALTH OF HER MAJESTY

By JOHN MONTGOMERY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train in Canada, October 27.—A prim, but affable woman of erect bearing and professional directness is the only person in North America who can dictate to Queen Marie. She is Adeline Young, a nurse from Johns Hopkins, who has undertaken the responsibility of safeguarding her majesty's health.

It is, perhaps, the first time that a woman has held, officially or unofficially, the position of court physician. Members of the royal party, schooled in the belief of masculine superiority, have been somewhat upset by Miss Young's importance. Every move of the queen is subject to Miss Young's approval. On several occasions her prerogative has been exercised and she kept her majesty indoors or within sheltered enclosures.

Queen Marie today will visit Montreal, her train arriving early for a 16-hour stopover. The train crossed the Canadian border yesterday morning.

The train arrived in Toronto with Prince Nicholas in the cab—dressed in immaculate blue serge, not grimy engineer's overalls. He had boarded the locomotive several miles below the city to satisfy his curiosity as to how an American engine operated.

The party attended a meeting of the Women's Canadian club in the afternoon and were guests at a dinner given at the government house by Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Henry Cockshutt.

Miss Young kept close guard of the queenly health. Even her majesty's clothes were under the nurse's supervision.

"Her majesty must not venture out in this weather," was sufficient declaration to keep the queen of Rumania inside her private car.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(UP)—Fred Geimer, 21, Two Rivers, Wis., was being held by police today pending the outcome of an inquest into the death of William Butler, 65, who was killed in an automobile accident yesterday.

Butler died when he was struck by the machine driven by Geimer. The inquest will be held tomorrow.

Polarine and Motoring Pleasure

A smooth running engine is the first essential to motor enjoyment.

What's the fun of motoring, if the car does not run quietly, or if it fails to glide over the enticing highways smoothly and without effort? The landscape loses its charm and the fresh air is not so fresh.

The constant use of Polarine is the one sure way to keep an engine running smoothly. Proper lubrication is the secret of smooth performance. Polarine, The Perfect Motor Oil, keeps an engine in perfect condition.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud to recommend Polarine as one of its major products, for Polarine represents the highest excellence in lubricants that science, money and skill can achieve.

Have the crankcase drained out today, cleaned with Polarine Flushing Oil, and refilled with the particular grade of Polarine made expressly for your car.

You'll notice the difference the minute you take the wheel. The car seems to purr with pleasure as it glides over the road with velvety smoothness. Because the engine is perfectly lubricated, every part moves with faultless precision. Listen to its soft, steady rhythm!

A smooth running car is the first essential to real motoring pleasure. Using Polarine always means few repair bills and long life to your car!
